How to present wirelessly

To connect your device to the screen:

1. Make sure your device is connected to the Wi-Fi.

If you're an office customer connected to Wi-Fi Secure, continue to step 2. If you're an external customer, connect to the Meeting Room Wi-Fi.

Network: Meeting Room Wi-Fi

Password: HelloAgain

2. Insert the Clickshare dongle into the USB port on your device.

3. The ring on the dongle will start to fill with light. When the ring is complete, click the middle of the dongle to start screen sharing. (If you're using a MacBook and the light is blinking, check our Troubleshoot instructions.)

If you want to pause the screen sharing at any point, click the pause button indicated by (1) and (2) to resume the presentation.

Troubleshooting

If the light on the dongle is blinking, you'll need to start clickshare.exe on your computer. The program should pop up on your device.

If clickshare.exe does not open automatically:

Windows

- Open your file explorer and locate CD Drive: Clickshare
- Open "Clickshare_for_windows.exe.

When the clickshare.exe software has run, you will see:

- Look for the Clickshare icon on your desktop. If it's not there, look in 'Finder'
- Double click 'ClickShare_for_MacOSX' to launch
- The ring on the dongle should now be solid white. Press the middle of the dongle to present and the ring will turn red

If prompted, agree to the additional security permissions in Security Preferences to present.

Apple Airplay

You can connect your Apple devices using Airplay. Please note Airplay cannot be used for video conferencing (including Zoom and Microsoft Teams). It can only be used for wireless presenting.
